POLICE ALL AT SEA, HALT INQUEST IN

Authorities Admit They Are Up Against a Stone Fence and It Is Hinted that the Inquiry, Postponed To-Day Until Young son REBUKED HER. Monday, May Not Be Resumed.

Strong Intimation that the Police Will Now Seek to Put Responsibility for the Crime on Arthur Pennell, Lawyer Named in Divorce Suit, Who Was Killed in an Automobile.

BUFFALO. N. Y., March 18.-It now seems improbate that the inques into the murder of Edwin L. Burdick will ever be resumed. Owing to with the throat of District-Attorney Coatsworth, the inquiry was for the crime, either directly or indirectly.

This disposition of the case was hinted at before whom the inquest is being held.

"Is there likelihood of the inquest being taken up before Monday of for resuming the inquest removed," he said. "I can't talk, though. It will not be proper for me to discuss this matter until I am able to make a definite announcement. I am going to see Chief of Detectives Cusack and portant announcement to make in reference to this case."

CAN STOP THE INQUIRY.

Justice who conducts an investigation of a murder has the right to stop the investigation at any time he concludes sufficient evidence has been presented to satisfy him who is the guilty one.

It may be that Judge Murphy is convinced that Burdick's death was the act of Arthur R. Pennell. To so hold and end the inquest would be sure to arouse angry protests from the latter's friends.

Pennell's friends are wealthy and politically powerful. It would be political suicide for Judge Murphy to put the crime up to Pennell, and the nomination of Major William Pilmley Magistrate is a shrewd politician and too good a fellow, his intimates say. to be Assistant United States Treas- to fasten the murder on a dead man who can not defend himself.

Meanwhile Supt. Bull refuses to discuss the murder, the inquest or the work of the police. The investigation has practically passed out of his hands into those of Chief of Detectives Cusack.

The Buffalo News has a story that the police have received a written threat to kill Burdick from one of the suspected persons. Supt. Bull says he knows nothing of such a written threat.

Servant Cross-Examined.

Robert L. Turk began the cross-examination of Mrs. McCarrick by showing that she was only chambermaid at the O'Briens', and he scoffed at the suggestion that Mrs. O'Brien would make a conditant of her chambermaid.

To another question the witness said that the performances of Mrs. O'Brien had been the gossip of all the servants, from the coachman up, since 1891.

Alvins Kugle. a serventeen-year-old girl, followed Miss McCarrick on the witness stand.

She testified that she is the nurse girl to Alice and Ella O'Brien, and that she knew all about Suith. She saw Mrs. O'Brien receive letters from Suith, and said Mrs. O'Brien tore up the envelope, but she found the letters under a hair pillow on Mrs. O'Brien's bed. She identified the letter in court, and Mr. Hummel read it with dramatic fire. It said:
